The screenshot shows the eLibrary interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'Search' highlighted. Below it, the 'Document View' section includes navigation links like '< Previous Result' and 'Next Result >'. There are options for 'Email', 'Print view', and 'Citation view'. A 'Translate document' dropdown is also present. The main content area displays the title 'Children's Television Viewing and Childhood Obesity' by Jordan, Amy B. from Pediatric Annals (2010). A text box provides a summary of the article's content. At the bottom, a section titled 'Citation for your reference:' provides instructions and a generated citation. The citation is: 'Jordan, B., A. (2010, September 01). Children's Television Viewing and Childhood Obesity. Pediatric Annals, (9), 569, Retrieved from http://elibrary.bigchalk.com.prx-01.lirn.net'. A red box highlights this citation, and a red arrow points to the 'APA' label on the left.

Ensure APA is selected. Copy and paste the information into your References pages
